Dear All,

I am extremely happy to announce that Central Mine Planning & Design Institute Limited (CMPDI) is bringing out our Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and Sustainability Report for the year 2016-17.

As a concerned growing organization, CMPDI is constantly exploring ways to contribute towards development and enriching lives of people. We make sure to take care of our stakeholders by working with them towards sustainable development and in doing so, contribute to a socially sustainable community for future generations. It is a pleasure sharing with you our Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) and sustainability report for the FY 2016-17 in which we share with you our journey as a responsible corporate.

The company follows the CSR policy as formulated by Coal India Limited for all its subsidiaries in line of section 135 of Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made there under. Based on the above broad policy, CMPDI has adopted its own CSR policy which has brought set of opportunities under CSR & SD initiative in the areas of capacity building, empowerment of stakeholders, inclusive socio-economic growth, environmental protection etc. in remote areas where drilling and allied activities under different Regional institutes are going on.

CMPDI reiterates its commitment to social responsibility towards CSR & sustainability by integrating social and environmental concerns in a day to-day business operations and that's why we invested more than 2% of the net profits as required by Companies Act 2013.

I am happy to share with you the encouraging trends and impacts of our actions in the area of People-Planet-Society throughout this CSR report. I welcome your suggestions, as we continue our journey of being a responsible and sustainable organization that brings value to all our stakeholders and enriches lives of the communities.

Best Regards,

(Shekhar Saran)

INTRODUCTION

As a miniratna company and a major corporate entity of a booming economy like India, we at CMPDI feel that we have to actively indulge in CSR and sustainable development activities so that the goals which India has committed for herself at global platforms, can be attained.

It has been in national discourse that the geographical 'mining areas' of our country have historically lagged behind in social and economic development. As it is well known, Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is a Company's innate responsibility to cater to the needs of its immediate community and grow in a sustainable manner, while recognizing the interests of its stakeholders. Stakeholders include investors, customers, employees, business partners, local community, environment and society. Thus, it can be seen that Corporate Social Responsibility is closely linked with Sustainable practices. Corporate Social Responsibility is not and should not be confined to philanthropic activities (as it used to be narrowly interpreted earlier) rather; it should facilitate the integration of social and business goals. They have to be viewed as commitments which are not only helpful for the society but also help in securing a sustainable competitive advantage for the companies. We understand Corporate Social Responsibility as a company's commitment to operate in a manner which is transparent, sustainable and increasingly satisfying to the impoverished local community.

CSR and Sustainable Development at CMPDIL

Here is a brief overview of commonly accepted benefits of having a sound CSR policy which inspire us to actively take up CSR activities:

- ❖ Serving all the company's stakeholders is accepted as the best way to produce long term success and to create a growing, prosperous company.
- ❖ The company's products and technologies are directed to contribute to the benefits and welfare of the people.
- ❖ The company creates win-win relationship with their stakeholders.
- ❖ The company grows hand-in-hand with their employees supporting them to reach their full potential and improve their standard of living.
- ❖ Company prosperity is directly linked to the prosperity of customers, suppliers and shareholders.
- ❖ CSR helps to create positive image of the company through its activities.

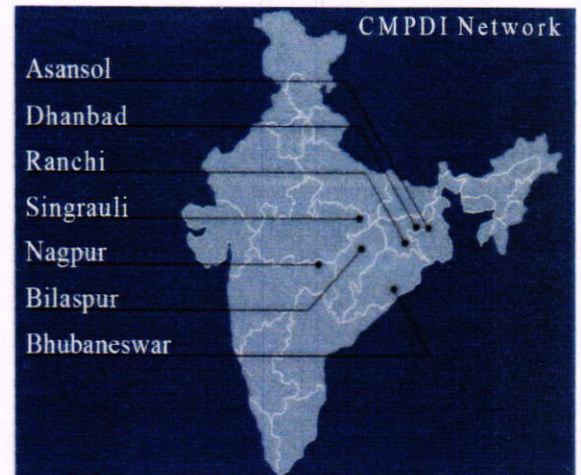

At CMPDI, we view CSR as a way of conducting business, which enables us to distribute "growth" within our stakeholders in a better manner. The implementation and integration of ethical systems and sustainable management practices also form a key component of our CSR policy. At CMPDI, we do not believe CSR to be emanating directly from external demands; instead we see it as a process by which our managers evolve our relationship with our stakeholders for the common good and we demonstrate our commitment in this regard by adoption of appropriate business processes and strategies. We have already emphasized that CSR and sustainable development are two sides of the same coin and so we believe in the philosophy that economic and industrial development must go on in such a way that no irreparable damage be done to the environment.

CSR & SUSTAINABILITY ACTIVITIES

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is widely recognized as an important means to promote sustainable development and inclusive growth. Corporates are now widely judged by the stakeholders and the society at large by the initiatives taken to address sustainability issues. Public sector Enterprises (PSEs) have played a vital role in socio economic development of the country. Corporate Social Responsibility facilitates integration of Social, Environmental and Ethical responsibilities into the governance for a long lasting profitability and sustainability. Today, it is imperative for the corporate to move faster towards CSR and develop the communities in which they operate, grow and flourish to stay afloat. The thrust of CSR and Sustainability is on capacity building, empowerment of communities, inclusive socio-economic growth, environment protection, promotion of green and energy efficient technologies, development of backward regions, and upliftment of the marginalized and underprivileged sections of the society. CMPDI CSR projects are undertaken in and around the areas of operations which includes drilling camps spread across 7 states of the country to cater to the needs of the affected community for their development and wellbeing.
